

WEEK IN REVIEW

Top headlines from baltimorebusinessjournal.com

Developers vie for slots license

Baltimore developer Cordish Co. is considering joining forces with Hard Rock International and Banks Contracting Co. Inc. to vie for one of five gaming licenses in Maryland. The two firms have spoken with Cordish about combining their efforts, company Chairman David S. Cordish said in an e-mail Jan. 20. Cordish has worked with both companies in the past, including with Hard Rock on two casino developments in Florida.

